

GIFTS REQUESTED BY CAMP GOODWILL

Lawn Fete Planned for the Fourth of July.

Camp Goodwill will open its summer outing season on July 1. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Summer Outings Committee, recently organized, is preparing the house and grounds of Camp Goodwill for occupation by the mothers and children who are to be given the advantage of a two weeks' sojourn at the camp in Rock Creek Park. A complete furnishing is necessary for this summer, and appeal is now made for such articles as will contribute to the necessities and summer comfort of those so fortunate as to be included in the party.

Among the articles of which donations are asked are household furniture, such as tables, chairs, bedding, rugs, lamps, wash, bookcase, china, and glass, desk, basins, kitchen utensils, porch and lawn chairs and benches, books and magazines, indoor and outdoor game sets, and clothing. Articles will be called for upon notice to Summer Outings Committee, 923 H street northwest.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is composed of Mrs. T. M. McLaughlin, president; Miss H. B. Hayes, secretary; Mrs. James Clift, treasurer; Mrs. John R. McLean, Mrs. A. T. Ramsey, Mrs. Giles Kaffer, Miss Janet Richards, Mrs. W. C. Hibbs, Mrs. Percival M. Brown, Mrs. W. S. Newell, Miss Alice Clark, and Miss M. E. Pond.

On the Fourth of July will be given a lawn fete and games and dancing, and an out-of-door sports exhibition by the Playground Association, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Buses will meet the visitors to the entertainment, who are asked to bring luncheon, although lemonade, coffee, and milk will be served.

ISSUE NEW ORDER PROTECTING STREETS

Engineer Commissioner Morrow, for the protection of the asphalt street surface, has issued an order that hereafter all electric light, telephone, and telegraph companies shall be prohibited from digging up the streets to make connections with private houses and their trunk lines, except at one point in every block.

Commissioner Morrow says the practice in the past of these companies has been to cut up the asphalt surface of the streets indiscriminately in making these connections, greatly to the injury of the roadways, and that it will not be permitted in the future.

Under the order just issued the companies will be required to lay conduits on both sides of the street instead of on one side, as now maintained in many instances, which will enable workmen to connect every house on a block by one excavation.

Washington Girl Scores Decided Hit As Vocalist

MISS IRENE DIETERICH,
Whose Success as a Soprano Soloist Has Been Most Marked.

Completes Four Weeks' Engagement in Baltimore as One of the Most Successful Singers of the Season.

Quite the most successful young artist in local circles during the past few weeks is Miss Irene Dieterich, soprano soloist. After her first appearance at one "pop" concert recently in Baltimore, she was promptly engaged for a week. At the end of that time she was engaged for another week, and then another, and last evening she completed her fourth week with unwavering success. She made a pronounced hit with her charming voice, good style, and grace. Miss Dieterich sang both operatic arias and ballads, showing a large repertoire of good numbers.

Not only was she successful as a singer, but she was also enthusiastically greeted as a composer, for her composition, "The Teddy Bear March," was played for the first time in public last Thursday evening by Philipini's Band. The pretty young composer was forced to appear on the stage to acknowledge the enthusiasm.

Miss Dieterich is a former student in the Conservatory of Stuttgart, Germany, where she went to pursue her studies as a pianist. After studying for some months and making great progress, her teacher advised her to take vocal lessons. She made wonderful progress with the singing lessons, and returned after a few years more of a singer than a pianist. Miss Dieterich will return to Washington today and spend a short time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Dieterich, of East Capitol street, and will then go to Atlantic City for the summer.

The British Yukon, it is said, will exhibit 200 varieties of flowers at the Alaska-Yukon exposition to be held in Seattle in 1909.

LABOR

WOMAN NAMED TYPO DELEGATE

Mrs. F. C. Roberts Will Attend International Convention of Unions.

Mrs. F. C. Roberts has been elected delegate by the Woman's Auxiliary of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, to the International Convention of the Woman's International Auxiliary, that meets in Hot Springs in August, at the same time that the International Typographical Union Convention meets there. Mrs. Roberts is a writer for the labor press and periodicals of strong papers that are extensively copied. She has contributed, by her untiring efforts to the introduction of the union label on union-made goods as a passport of their purchase by the wives of union men.

Brief Notes and Personals

Of Interest to the Labor Unions
J. M. Proctor, a member of the first branch of the Amalgamated Carpenters, who fell from the roof of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad roundhouse recently, fracturing his skull and one of his limbs, is reported to be recovering, and is now out of danger.

John Mitchell, a well-known printer of Washington, who has been absent closing up some fiduciary matters in connection with the estate of his father, has returned, and is again at work.

J. A. D. Turner, of the "art preservative," absent from his duties for the past two months by reason of a severe and protracted illness, has so far recovered as to be able to resume his duties in the Government Printing Office.

Arthur P. Ferl, remembered in Washington as an aggressive union printer, is now in the real estate business in San Pedro, Cal. The last time his Washington friends heard of him was back in the period of the Spanish-American war when he was in the Philippines doing service for his country as a soldier.

Robert Huston, the ten-year-old boy who was awarded the violin prize offered by Federal Lodge of Masons during the Masonic Fair, is a son of J. A. Huston, recently elected a delegate for Columbia Typographical Union No. 101, to the international convention of the International Typographical Union at Hot Springs. Young Huston's prize is worth $100.

Thomas M. Lawler, a former member of the staff of composers of the Government Printing Office, died recently at his home in Sunbury, Pa. He left here nine years ago and located in the Pennsylvania town, where he entered upon a business life in which he was unusually successful. He was a member of Columbia Typographical Union No. 101 of Washington and represented that body at the convention of the International Typographical Union at Louisville, Ky., in 1894. He was forty-five years old.

Another old-time Washington printer forges to the front as a man of large means. This time it is Charles Henderson, who worked at one time in years past in the Government Printing. Henderson is the owner of two of the large fashionable flats in Chicago and is drawing a salary of $17,500 a year as the advertising manager of a big Chicago advertising house.

J. L. Rodier, special organizer of the American Federation of Labor, has been in Philadelphia recently, doing some special work for the organization. During the past two weeks he reports having added over 1,000 men to the ranks of organized labor who were in no way connected with the labor movement of organization.

Emmett L. Adams, president of District Lodge, No. 44, International Association of Machinists, left the middle of the week for an extended trip among the navy yards, arsenals, and naval stations of the eastern section of the country. He will not be home until the last of the month.

J. P. Kane, of the east gun carriage shop, Navy Yard, is critically ill with typhoid. Thomas E. Gleason, a veteran employe of the west gun carriage shop, was recently asphyxiated by gas.

Charles Kuhn, a member of Columbia Lodge, No. 174, and one of the expert machinists of the naval gun factory, has been appointed a subcontractor for the navy, and will be assigned to the Bethlehem Steel Works, Bethlehem, Pa.

The taking of the testimony in the injunction proceedings brought some time ago by John Bender against the Bakers' Union has been completed before the special commissioners appointed to hear the case.

Mrs. W. A. Bowen, one of the charter members of the Women's Auxiliary, No. 12, of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, has been re-elected delegate at large of the International Auxiliary. She is an ex-president of the organization.

John B. Dickman, chairman of the Trades' Union committee, is promoting the movement to extend the usefulness of the playgrounds of the city under the direction of the Washington Playgrounds Association. This public service for the children meets with the high favor of organized labor, many of the unions having made contributions to the support of the movement.

By reason of nearly all of its members dropping out of the service of the Government, the Federal Labor Union, No. 8133, composed of the women employes of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, has disbanded. It was found

Start Summer Campaign For Cure of Sick Babies

Society for Prevention of Sickness Claims Their Treatment Cures Within Twenty-four Hours.

The Society for the Prevention of Sickness has started its annual summer campaign for the relief and cure of stomach troubles of babies.

In describing this treatment, which has the advantage of being extremely easy and simple, an official of the society said yesterday: "Many children contract stomach troubles during the summer, and this sickness, even when not resulting in death, causes a great deal of anxiety, much suffering, loss of sleep, and entails expense and untold trouble. If, as the society claims, its treatment usually cures the disease within twenty-four hours, the fact should be published freely all over this broad land.

Mode of Treatment.

"The mode of treatment is based on the recipe of a prominent children's specialist with certain changes found of advantage after many trials. According to scientific analysis the bacteria causing the diarrhoea thrive in fresh cow's milk, and hence the first step when an attack begins is to stop giving the child this food and substitute a cereal, preferably rice, in the form of a rather thick and finely strained soup to which enough condensed milk is added, while warm, to sweeten it and make it palatable. This diet is ample for nourishing the child for days, and if to it the white of an egg was added it would form an almost complete substitute for fresh cow's milk. The small quantity of calomel prescribed is given for the purpose of destroying and removing the bacteria already lodged in the intestinal canal.

"That the bulletin issued by the society are founded on a thorough appreciation of the milk situation can best be shown by the recent action of the members of the milk conference when they advised the home pasteurizing of all milk by bringing the milk to the boiling point, then withdraw, and cool it. In other words they gave an official indorsement of the proposal disseminated for the past six years by the Society for the Prevention of Sickness when they told people to scald all milk for children and invalids.

Brighter Day Dawning.

"A brighter day is evidently dawning for the babies and their parents. With prominent scientists joining in a conference for the improvement of the milk supply and the additional official indorsement of home pasteurization the mortality among children under five years of age which now reaches 25 per cent of the total mortality, should be easily reduced to 10 per cent. And in addition there will be greater peace and confidence in the minds of the parents who now have to be in constant dread until a child has passed its fifth birthday."

Impossible to secure a sufficient number of women in the bureau to continue the work of the organization.

Managers of the Central Labor Union Labor Day observance at Luna Park say that it will be the greatest labor holiday ever celebrated on a similar occasion in the District. There will be two speakers of national reputation.

The annual election of officers of Central Labor Union will take place the last meeting night in this month. Among those mentioned prominently as possible presidents of the organization are J. F. McHugh, of the Soft Stone Cutters; John H. Lorch, Engineers, and J. L. Feeney, of the Bookbinders.

The Rev. W. H. Skellinger, delegate to Central Labor Union from the Presbyterian Ministerial Association, who leaves Washington soon to take up the work of his church in Brooklyn, N. Y., will preach his farewell sermon, especially prepared on a union labor topic, tonight, at the Presbyterian Church at Sixth and C streets southwest. Central Labor Union will send a delegation that will fill the building.

York, Pa., will send to Washington, on the occasion of Labor Day, a delegation of 1,000 or more of the sons of toil of that city. The big delegation will be made up of the unions forming the American Federation of Trades Unions, a similar body to the Central Labor Union of this city. They will come on special trains, and will be the guests of Central Labor Union at the Luna Park outing. Two big brass military bands will accompany them.

DEATH TAKES VETERAN AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Capt. Nathan M. McLaughlin died yesterday morning at his residence, 904 M street northwest. Although in poor health for the past two years, his final illness was of brief duration and his death was unexpected. During the civil war he was a captain in the Ninth West Virginia Volunteers and the Twenty-seventh United States colored troops. Before and after the war he was a superintendent of schools in Ohio, and later was appointed to a clerkship in the Pension Bureau, where he has remained, chiefly in the Southern division, for the last twenty-seven years. He is survived by his wife and three sons.
